Mobs attack couple, women in Bharuch after child-lifting rumors

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
SUHELA SHUKLA

In Gujarat, two separate incidents, in two places, on the same day, which were linked to each other, have seriously disturbed the local community and law enforcement agencies. In the first incident, which took place in Surat's Varsoli area, a woman was attacked by a mob for allegedly lifting children. In the second incident, which occurred in Bharuch's Tatwadi area, a couple was attacked by a mob for allegedly lifting children.

In both incidents, the suspects were apprehended by the local authorities and the investigations are ongoing.

The incident in Surat's Varsoli area occurred on Thursday evening when a woman, identified as Sunita Patel, was accused of lifting children. The mob gathered around her and started mobbing her. The woman was eventually rescued by the police.

In the Bharuch incident, which occurred on Friday morning, a couple, identified as Deepak and Shilpa Patel, were accused of lifting children. The couple was eventually rescued by the police and the investigation is ongoing.

Both incidents have led to a rise in public anxiety and fear. The local authorities have appealed to the public to remain calm and law-abiding.

The Gujarat Police has also assured the public that they will take strict action against anyone found guilty of spreading false rumors or committing any crime.

The government has also launched a campaign to educate people about child-lifting and to discourage such false rumors.

The incidents have also led to a rise in public anxiety and fear. The local authorities have appealed to the public to remain calm and law-abiding.

The Gujarat Police has also assured the public that they will take strict action against anyone found guilty of spreading false rumors or committing any crime.

The government has also launched a campaign to educate people about child-lifting and to discourage such false rumors.